The press release issued by the Progress Board on January 21, 2003 regarding the 2002 Oregon Population Survey incorrectly stated that: “Household income went up between 1999 and 2001 in actual dollars from $38,700 to $40,350. In inflation adjusted 1990 dollars, income increased from $27,000 to 29,775.”

It should have said “Household income went up between 1999 and 2001 in actual dollars from $38,700 to $40,350. In inflation adjusted 1989 dollars, income decreased from $27,000 to 26,600.”
