Subject: RE: Construction Claims Task Force

I will gather some additional information that I'm confident will be beneficial to your Construction Claims Task Force initiative and formidable effort to prepare your recommendations for the 2007 Legislature.

In the meantime, I highly recommend that you and your associates take the opportunity to visit the www.C-Risk.com website. There is a lot of information on construction liability, insurance & risk management that you can peruse this information in the C-Risk Reference Library, the Construction Defect Mitigation section, etc.

If there are any Construction Claims Task Force meetings scheduled in the future that are open to national construction industry experts like myself, please let me know. Since I now live in Oregon, I would be happy to share with you my extensive practical knowledge and professional experience in order to make a contribution to your efforts if my active travel schedule and client obligations allow.

My contact information is listed below.

Best regards,

David
