

Voices of Problem Gambling Recovery

An Affiliate of the Oregon Council on Problem Gambling

“To speak for those affected by problem gambling:
Advocate, educate, promote recovery”

Problem gamblers and their families need a voice in Oregon. This is why the Oregon Council on Problem Gambling organized a ready group of people to provide first hand witness of the effects of problem gambling and serve as advocates for community action. Meetings consist of sharing ideas, creating initiatives, and educating members about topics such as the legislative process and effective communication. Members have a place where they can go to give back to their community, positively harness their energy, and promote recovery.

The group’s objectives are:

- To educate others about gambling and problem gambling
- To promote recovery
- To advocate to state and local government on behalf of problem gamblers and their families
- To increase community awareness of problem gambling

The group has only been in existence since September of 2008 and needs more members to increase their impact.

Help us make this effort a success and get involved!

Meetings are every other Monday, 6:00pm-8:00pm at the ACCBO Office Building, 2054 N Vancouver,
Portland, OR 97227
