Work to develop Oregon's approach to drug and alcohol prevention continues

What: Public meeting of the Alcohol and Drug Policy Commission's Subcommittee on Prevention

When: Feb. 5, 2010, 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Where: Portland State Office Building, 800 NE Oregon Street, Portland, Oregon, room TBD

Agenda: The Alcohol and Drug Policy Commission's Subcommittee on Prevention drafted a prevention framework and principles during the past three months. On Friday the subcommittee will review the draft, which includes a description of these four levels: primary prevention, promotion, universal selective and indicated. These four categories describe which populations each strategy or program serves. The subcommittee will discuss next steps and identify the prevention policy or policies that will be presented to the full commission at its next meeting on March 18, 2010.
