

TRIBAL HISTORY
SHARED HISTORY

The logo features a stylized, symmetrical design of orange and red geometric shapes resembling a snowflake or a starburst, centered on a white background. The text "TRIBAL HISTORY" and "SHARED HISTORY" is written in a bold, sans-serif font, one above the other, flanking the central graphic.

Changes in the Klamath Basin

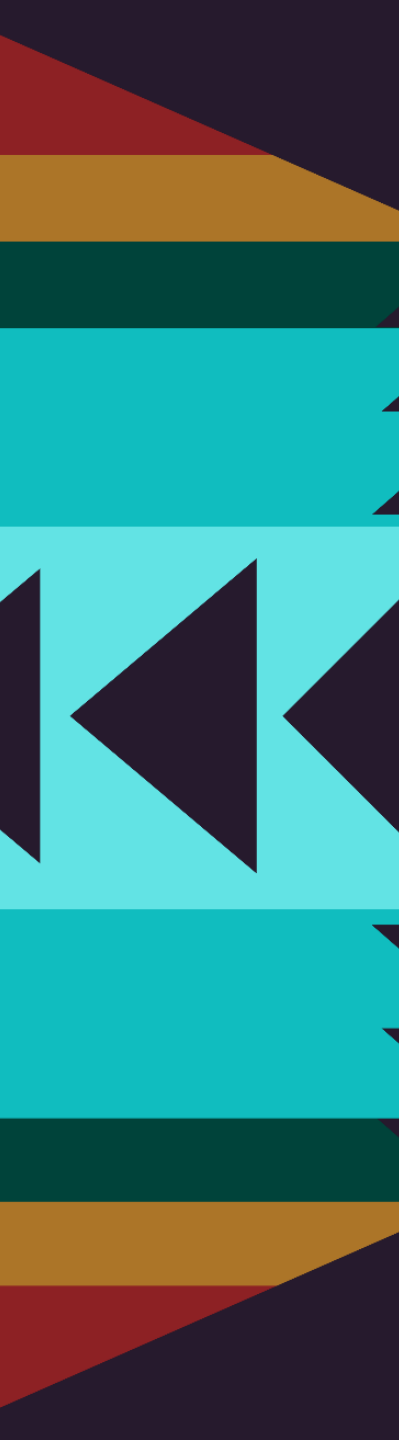

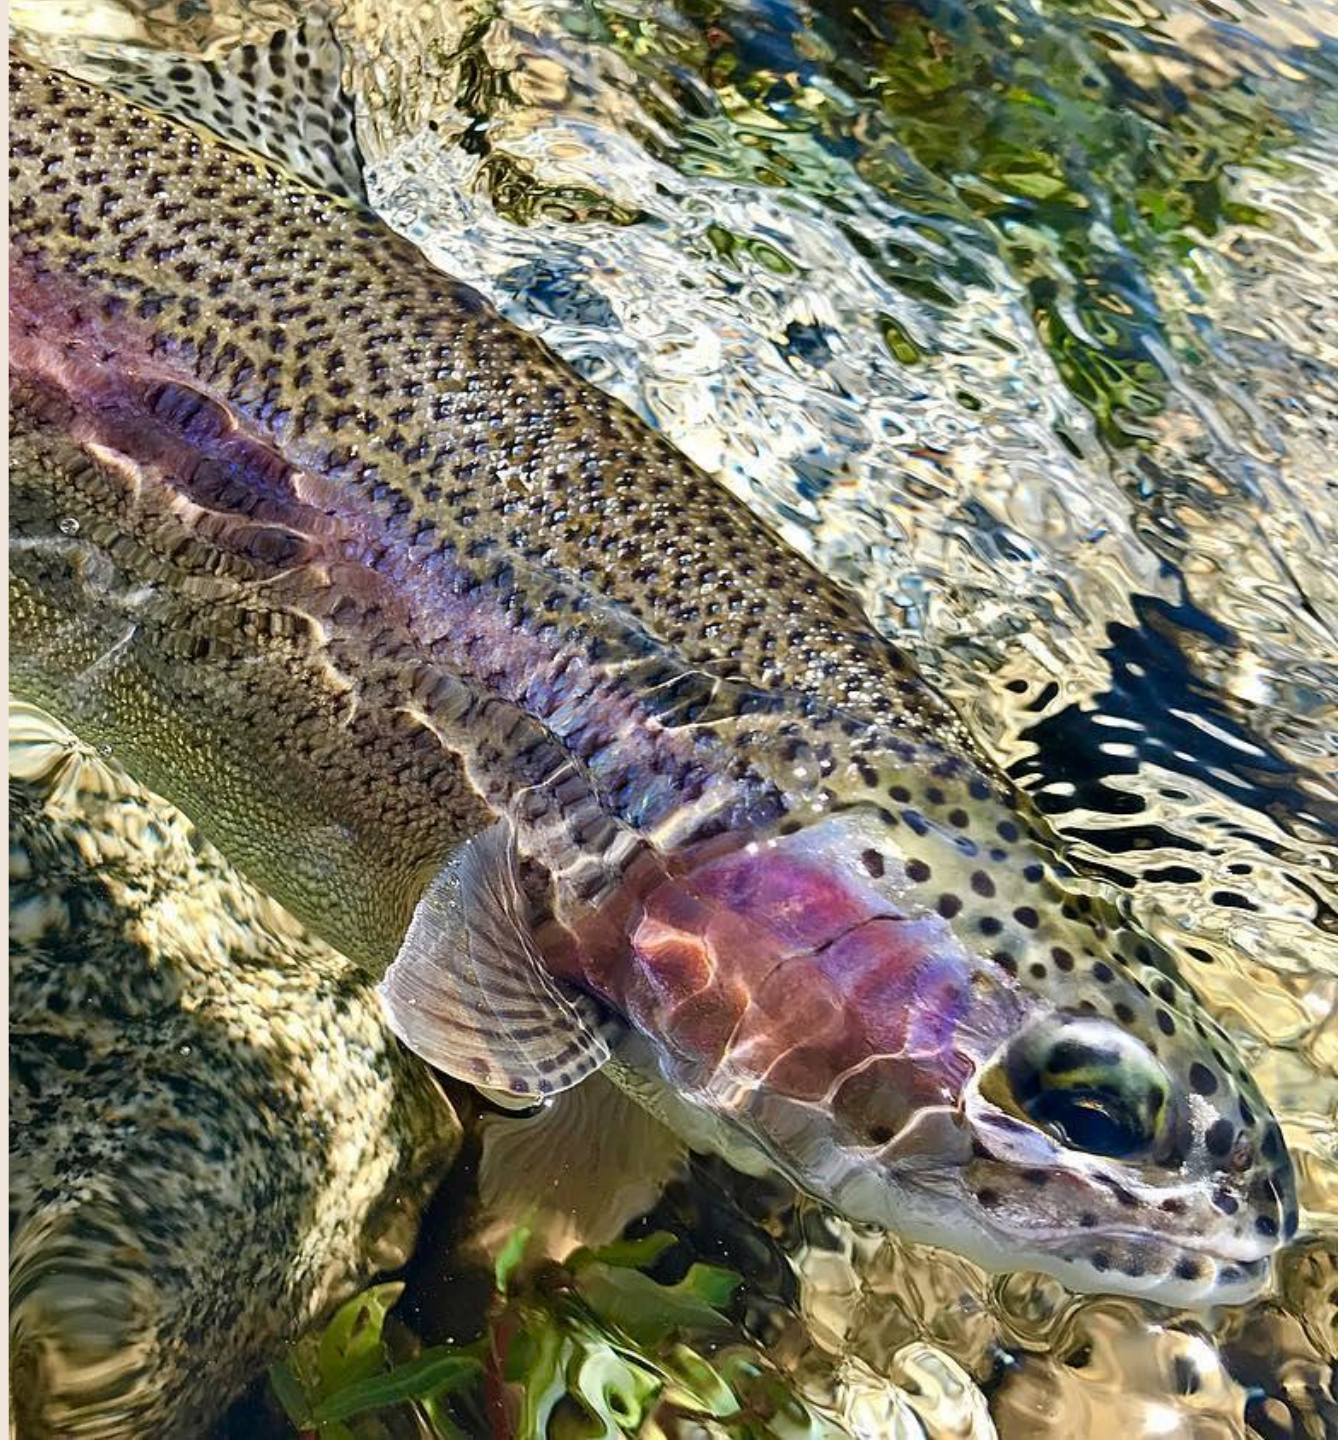

Land supported hunting, fishing, and gathering.

There was lots of wildlife.

Water was drained from marshes to grow food.

There was less water. And the cattle and crops made the water dirty

There were no more marshlands to clean the water.

It became dirty and warm.

The warm, dirty water grew lots of algae

The algae died and used up the oxygen in the water.

Without the oxygen, the C'Waam died.

But...

It can change. We can create more biodiversity again. Increase the water in the lake. Bring back the wetlands.
