POLICY OWNER Department of Administrative Services	APPROVED SIGNATURE Katy Coba, Director (Signature on file with DAS Business Services)
SUBJECT Public Records Management

PURPOSE

This policy supports statewide compliance with ORS 192.018 by establishing minimum standards for state agency policies relating to the internal management of public records and providing a Model Public Records Management Policy (model policy) for state agency reference or adoption.

State agencies may adopt the model policy language provided under each subsection of the POLICY GUIDELINES section of this policy (and attached as EXHIBIT A) or adopt more restrictive requirements and practices to meet agency-specific business needs. Agencies may also incorporate by reference any existing internal policies that adequately address the policy areas outlined in the POLICY GUIDELINES and required by this policy.

Agencies are required to seek review and approval from the State Archivist, in accordance with ORS 192.018, prior to adopting an internal public records management policy.

Agencies must review and, if necessary, update their public records management policy at least once per biennium to account for changes in applicable laws, policies and business needs, and to ensure ongoing access to agency records. All policy amendments must be submitted to the State Archivist for review and approval according to ORS 192.018, prior to adoption.

APPLICABILITY

This policy applies to all agencies within the Executive Branch, as defined in ORS 174.112, excluding the following:

- Secretary of State.
- State Treasurer.
- The Attorney General, but only with respect to its authority, per ORS 182.124, over information systems security in the Department of Justice.
- Oregon State Lottery.
- State Board of Higher Education or any public university listed in ORS 352.002.

The requirements in this policy do not supersede, modify or replace the existing legal responsibilities of any state agency. Agencies must continue to meet obligations required by all applicable laws, policies, procedures and standards including without limitation: state and federal public records laws, privacy laws and regulations, and applicable DAS policies and procedures.

EXCLUSIONS

ORS 192.018 requires every state agency to have a “written policy that sets forth the agency’s use, retention and ownership of public records.” Therefore, other than the excluded organizations listed above in the APPLICABILITY section of this policy, there are no other exclusions.

EXHIBITS

- EXHIBIT A: Model Public Records Management Policy

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

- Retained records may be subject to public disclosure upon request, even if their retention was not required by law. The statutes requiring public disclosure of records apply more broadly than the statutes requiring records to be retained.
- Agencies are not required to create public records that would not otherwise exist.
- Only the official copy of a public record must be retained. Stock of publications are not public records and may be preserved for convenience or destroyed.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The goal of this policy is to ensure public records are managed and maintained appropriately across the enterprise of state government and streamline compliance with ORS 192.018 by requiring agencies to adopt internal public records management policies that address the following components, at a minimum:

- I. Public Records Maintenance
- II. Roles and Responsibilities
- III. Education and Training
- IV. Access and Ownership
- V. Integrity
- VI. Retention, Generally
- VII. Storage and Retrieval
- VIII. Public Records Requests
- IX. Disposition and Destruction of Public Records

COMPLIANCE

Agencies subject to this policy must achieve compliance with ORS 192.018 within 90 days of the effective date of this policy.

In addition, agencies must develop and implement internal processes and procedures that support compliance, deter abuse and detect violations.

If an agency’s public records management policy, approved and adopted according to this policy, cannot be feasibly implemented, the agency may submit a written request for assistance to the Secretary of State Archives Division (Archives Division). The request should specify the policy section(s) and requirements making implementation over-burdensome and the type of assistance necessary for the agency to achieve compliance.

REPORTING

Agencies must notify the DAS Office of the Chief Operating Officer when the State Archivist has formally approved their public records management policy and the agency is compliant with ORS 192.018.

II. ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Agencies must develop a Records Management Program that includes the program's organizational structure, identified roles and associated responsibilities of agency employees necessary to properly manage the agency's public records.

Agencies are responsible for developing a public records training program for all employees. The Agency Records Officer will receive additional training from the State Archivist and will work within the agency to coordinate staff training and awareness. The Archives Division will serve as a resource in agency training development.

Each agency must implement a training program that includes basic public records training as a component of new employee orientation training, completed at the time of hiring, and incorporate basic public records training as part of regular employee training, completed once a biennium. The manner and mechanism through which training is disseminated is left to agency discretion (e.g., iLearn, Secretary of State Archives training, etc.).

Additionally, agencies must continuously review the technological advances related to their business practices and the availability of retained records and, migrate public records to keep up with technology and to ensure enduring access.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name's disaster mitigation process is addressed in the INSERT: Agency Name disaster preparedness and recovery plan and incorporated by reference here.*

V. INTEGRITY

Agencies must ensure all public records reliably represent information actually used to conduct state business and must apply adequate controls to ensure that the integrity of public records can be demonstrated by certified copy or accompanying metadata.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name will ensure appropriate access and version controls are applied to all electronically stored records from record creation to final disposition.*

The authenticity of each record can be demonstrated either by certified copy of paper records or via accompanying metadata for all electronic records.

VI. RETENTION, GENERALLY

The public records retention practices of agencies must comply with ORS chapter 192 and OAR chapter 166-300. Records not found on the State Agency General Records Retention Schedule are considered to be program records listed under the Special Retention Schedules approved by the State Archivist for the public records of a specific agency.

Agencies must preserve and classify public records according to ORS chapter 192, OAR chapter 166-300 and DAS Statewide Policy 107-004-050 regarding Information Asset Classification.

EMAIL

Official Email Accounts:

Employees are to use their official, state-issued email accounts primarily for communications regarding official state business, and virtually all email messages composed or sent using employees' official equipment or official email addresses are assumed to be public records.

Employees must limit personal use of official email accounts and must not: (1) interfere with normal business activities; (2) be associated with any outside for-profit business activity; or (3) otherwise contain any content that would embarrass state government.

Personal Email Accounts:

If employees must use personal email accounts, they must copy their official email accounts on all such outgoing communications, and forward any received messages on which their official email accounts are not copied.

Personal email accounts (addresses) used for communications related to state business may be subject to search and production.

- Model Policy Language

Official Email Accounts

In most circumstances, emails sent to or from a state employee's official email account will meet the definition of a public record. Therefore, this policy requires that virtually all email messages composed or sent using employees' official equipment or official email addresses be for primarily business purposes.

When INSERT: Agency Name receives a public records request, all official email accounts and systems used for official state business are subject to search and production.

Personal Email Accounts

If employees must use personal email accounts to conduct state business, INSERT: Agency Name requires that employees copy their official email accounts on all such outgoing communications, and forward any received messages on which their official email accounts are not copied, immediately or as soon as practicably possible.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Agency use of social media must comply with all applicable laws, policies, procedures and standards including without limitation: public records laws, privacy laws and regulations, statewide and agency-specific IT security policies, internal audit controls, risk management standards, and applicable DAS policies and procedures.

Content placed on a social media platform will be an accurate copy of an official record that is retained elsewhere by the agency per the official retention schedule.

Public records generated by use of social media must be accurately captured and retained in compliance with public records laws, authorized records retention schedules as well as other applicable federal and state rules and policies.

TEXT MESSAGING

Acceptable Use:

• Business Communications

Agencies may use text messages to communicate factual and logistical information related to official state business, only if the content of the communication is documented elsewhere in an official public record, meaning that the content of the text message:

- Has already been documented in a separate public record; or
- Necessarily will be documented and retained as a separate public record to comply with applicable laws.

In the absence of separate documentation, state employees are not to use text messages for official purposes other than routine communications that do not meet the definition of a public record.

• Routine Communications

Agencies may use text messages for communicating factual or logistical information that would not result in the creation of a text message-based public record, meaning text messages:

- Regarding scheduling or logistical information; or
- Providing factual information unrelated to official state business.

Unacceptable Use:

State employees are to avoid communicating official state business or engaging in discussions regarding the primary business of employees' work over text message. As noted above, relevant facts pertaining to official state business may be reported only if they are already documented in separate public records or they necessarily will be documented in a separate public record.

If, notwithstanding this policy, an employee uses text message to communicate information (not otherwise documented) relating to official state business or the primary business of the employee's work, such discussion is to be immediately converted and saved in a separate public record format (e.g., by forwarding the relevant text messages to their official state email).

State-owned devices with text message capability are always subject to search.

Agency employees' personal electronic devices are not to be used to transmit text messages related to state business. Personal devices used to transmit text messages regarding official state business or other substantive information related to an employee's work are subject to search.

▪ Model Policy Language

Acceptable Use:

INSERT: Agency Name employees may use text messaging to communicate factual and logistical information related to official state business, only if that information has been documented elsewhere, or will be documented and retained as a separate public record according to the agency's authorized records retention schedule.*

In the absence of separate documentation, INSERT: Agency Name employees are not to use text messages for official purposes other than for routine communications that do not meet the definition of a public record.

Examples of Acceptable Uses

- Scheduling.
- Requesting a call or email on a matter, without substantive discussion.
- Requesting or offering logistical assistance ("Can you help me get these boxes to the Capitol?").
- Forwarding any person's contact information ("I'm at 503-378-6002.").
- Explaining your current whereabouts, or inquiring about someone else's ("We're at the meeting discussing this morning's announcement. Are you around?").
- Describing facts or events that do not relate to the substance of the agency's work ("Spilled coffee all over myself right before my presentation!"), or that have been or necessarily will be separately recorded ("Mr. Jones just testified to the committee that our bill would cost taxpayers $3 million.").
- Inquiring about events like those in the previous bullet ("Has Mr. Jones testified in committee yet?").

Unacceptable Use:

INSERT: Agency Name employees must avoid communicating official state business or engaging in discussions regarding the primary business of their work over text message.*

As noted above, relevant facts pertaining to official state business may be reported only if they are already documented in separate public records or they necessarily will be documented in a separate public record.

If, notwithstanding this policy, an employee uses text message to communicate information (not otherwise documented) relating to official state business or the primary business of their work, such discussion is to be immediately converted and saved in a separate public record format (e.g., by forwarding the relevant text messages to their official state email).

Because INSERT: Agency Name requires that no text message-based public records be created – or if they are created, that they be converted and saved in an alternate format, which would serve as the official copy of the record – INSERT: Agency Name will not retain text messages.

INSERT: Agency Name employees' personal electronic devices should not be used to transmit text messages related to state business. Personal devices are subject to search if used to transmit text messages regarding official state business or information related to an employee's work that rises to the level of creating a public record.*

UNIFIED COMMUNICATIONS

State government has entered into a contract with IBM to offer Unified Communications solutions directly to agencies. Agencies must carefully select a user profile that includes specific packaged services and determine which services should be active for employees based on agency-specific business needs.

Certain features offered to agencies, if actively used by agency employees for official state business, will result in the creation of public records. Agencies must develop internal policies and practices to ensure such public records are retained if necessary and, otherwise, appropriately managed according to authorized records retention schedules as well as other state and federal policies and laws.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name will identify public records created by use of active Unified Communications features and ensure those records are appropriately managed according to authorized records retention schedules as well as other applicable state and federal policies and laws.*

INSERT: Agency Name will implement the following practices and procedures to accurately capture public records created by use of active Unified Communications features:*

[INSERT: Agency-Specific Information]

VOICEMAIL

Unless otherwise required, messages on voicemail or other telephone message storage and retrieval system will not be retained.

Email transcription of voicemail messages is a feature of Unified Communications solutions referenced in the previous section. Email transcriptions of a voicemail message may be considered a public record subject to retention and must be retained according to authorized records retention schedules.

- Model Policy Language

Unless otherwise required, INSERT: Agency Name will not retain messages on voicemail.

Email transcriptions of voicemails that are determined to be public records will be retained according to authorized records retention schedules and may be subject to public disclosure upon request.

VII. STORAGE AND RETRIEVAL PAPER RECORDS

Agencies will maintain a filing system of the agency's paper records. The filing system will include the location of records, retention periods and procedures for retrieval of agency records.

Agencies may transfer paper records to micrographics or convert paper records to an electronic format for storage using electronic or cloud systems according to the technical and management standards in OAR chapter 166 and DAS Statewide Cloud Policy requirements. The exception to this is for records with an authorized retention period of 100 years or more where agencies are required to follow the requirements of OAR 166-017-0045(3) prior to converting or destroying the paper records.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name will maintain a filing system of the agency's paper records based on authorized retention schedules. The filing system will include the location of records, retention periods and procedures for retrieval to ensure access to agency records.*

ELECTRONIC RECORDS

At a minimum, agencies must establish a filing system and naming conventions for all agency records stored in an electronic format. The filing system and naming conventions must support the agency's inventory of electronic records and must include the location of the records in agency directories, retention periods, access controls and privacy conditions of the records.

Before deleting any large electronic record system, the agency must ensure that all retention periods have been met before the data is destroyed.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name will maintain a filing system and naming conventions for all agency records stored in electronic format based on the agency's authorized retention schedules. The filing system and naming conventions will include the location of records in agency directories, retention periods, access controls and privacy conditions to support management of the agency's inventory of electronic records.*

INSERT: Agency Name will work with the State Archivist to ensure the agency meets retention periods for all records before any data is destroyed and prior to deleting any large electronic record system.*

VIII. PUBLIC RECORDS REQUESTS

Agencies will process and respond to all official requests for public records as soon as practicable and without unreasonable delay, according to timelines outlined in ORS 192.324 and ORS 192.329.

Agencies will develop and adopt internal policies and procedures to appropriately manage, track and fulfill requests for public records.

Consistent with ORS 192.324(7), agencies will make available to the public a written procedure for making public records requests. The written procedure must include the name of one or more individuals within the public body to whom public records requests may be sent, with addresses, and indicate that agencies will charge fees for fulfilling public records request according to the DAS Statewide Policy on Public Records Requests Fees and Charges 107-001-030. Instructions and supporting forms for submitting a public records request must be accessible, clear and user friendly.

- Model Policy Language

INSERT: Agency Name will respond to all official requests for public records as soon as practicable and without unreasonable delay, according to timelines outlined in ORS 192.324 and ORS 192.329.*

INSERT: Agency Name's procedures for managing public records requests are incorporated by reference here.*

IX. DISPOSITION AND DESTRUCTION OF PUBLIC RECORDS

Public records retained beyond their authorized retention period may be subject to public disclosure upon request, even if their retention was not required by law. Unless otherwise stated, a retention period begins on the date the public record was created. Retention periods are both a minimum retention and maximum retention period.

Agencies must dispose of or destroy public records according to the requirements of OAR chapter 166-300.

Pursuant to ORS 357.855, state employees within the Executive Branch must consult the State Archivist for advice and assistance with determining the disposition of certain record types not accounted for in State Agency General or Special Retention Schedules, and reconciling unforeseen issues regarding public records.

- Model Policy Language

When INSERT: Agency Name receives a public records request, all official email accounts and systems used for official state business are subject to search and production.

Personal Email Accounts

If employees must use personal email accounts to conduct state business, INSERT: Agency Name requires that employees copy their official email accounts on all such outgoing communications, and forward any received messages on which their official email accounts are not copied, immediately or as soon as practicably possible.

c. INSTANT MESSAGING

INSERT: Agency Name policy regarding Instant Messages is the same as that recited below regarding TEXT MESSAGING.

d. SOCIAL MEDIA

Any content INSERT: Agency Name places on any social media platform must be an accurate copy of an official record that is retained elsewhere by INSERT: Agency Name per the authorized records retention schedules.

INSERT: Agency Name will develop practices and procedures to manage agency use of social media to ensure public records are accurately captured and retained per authorized records retention schedules.

e. TEXT MESSAGING

Acceptable Use:

INSERT: Agency Name employees may use text messaging to communicate factual and logistical information related to official state business, only if that information has been documented elsewhere or will be documented and retained as a separate public record according to the agency's authorized records retention schedule.

In the absence of separate documentation, INSERT: Agency Name employees are not to use text messages for official purposes other than for routine communications that do not meet the definition of a public record.

Examples of Acceptable Uses

- Scheduling.
- Requesting a call or email on a matter, without substantive discussion.
- Requesting or offering logistical assistance ("Can you help me get these boxes to the Capitol?").
- Forwarding any person's contact information ("I'm at 503-378-6002.").
- Explaining your current whereabouts, or inquiring about someone else's ("We're at the meeting discussing this morning's announcement. Are you around?").
- Describing facts or events that do not relate to the substance of the agency's work ("Spilled coffee all over myself right before my presentation!"), or that have been or necessarily will be separately recorded ("Mr. Jones just testified to the committee that our bill would cost taxpayers $3 million.").
- Inquiring about events like those in the previous bullet ("Has Mr. Jones testified in committee yet?").

Unacceptable Use:

INSERT: Agency Name employees must avoid communicating official state business or engaging in discussions regarding the primary business of their work over text message.

As noted above, relevant facts pertaining to official state business may be reported only if they are already documented in separate public records or they necessarily will be documented in a separate public record.

If, notwithstanding this policy, an employee uses text message to communicate information (not otherwise documented) relating to official state business or the primary business of their work, such discussion is to be immediately converted and saved in a separate public record format (e.g., by forwarding the relevant text messages to their official state email).

Because INSERT: Agency Name requires that no text message-based public records be created – or if they are created, that they be converted and saved in an alternate format, which would serve as the official copy of the record – INSERT: Agency Name will not retain text messages.

INSERT: Agency Name employees' personal electronic devices should not be used to transmit text messages related to state business. Personal devices are subject to search if used to transmit text messages regarding official state business or information related to an employee's work that rises to the level of creating a public record.

f. UNIFIED COMMUNICATIONS

INSERT: Agency Name will identify public records created by use of active Unified Communications features and ensure those records are appropriately managed according to authorized records retention schedules as well as other applicable state and federal policies and laws.

INSERT: Agency Name will implement the following practices and procedures to accurately capture public records created by use of active Unified Communications features:

g. VOICEMAIL

Unless otherwise required, INSERT: Agency Name will not retain messages on voicemail.

Email transcriptions of voicemails that are determined to be public records will be retained according to authorized records retention schedules and may be subject to public disclosure upon request.

VII. STORAGE AND RETRIEVAL

Paper Records:

INSERT: Agency Name will maintain a filing system of the agency's paper records based on authorized retention schedules. The filing system will include the location of records, retention periods and procedures for retrieval to ensure accessibility of agency records.

Electronic Records:

INSERT: Agency Name will maintain a filing system and naming conventions for all agency records stored in electronic format based on the agency's authorized retention schedules. The filing system and naming conventions will include the location of records in agency directories, retention periods, access controls and privacy conditions to support management of the agency's inventory of electronic records.

INSERT: Agency Name will work with the State Archivist to ensure the agency meets retention periods for all records before any data is destroyed and prior to deleting any large electronic record system.

VIII. PUBLIC RECORDS REQUESTS

INSERT: Agency Name will respond to all official requests for public records as soon as practicable and without unreasonable delay, according to timelines outlined in ORS 192.324 and ORS 192.329.

INSERT: Agency Name's procedures for managing public records requests are incorporated by reference here.

IX. DISPOSITION AND DESTRUCTION OF PUBLIC RECORDS

INSERT: Agency Name will dispose of or destroy public records according to the requirements of authorized records retention schedules and OAR chapter 166-300.

Pursuant to ORS 357.855, INSERT: Agency Name employees will consult the State Archivist for advice and assistance with determining the disposition of certain record types not accounted for in State Agency General or Special Retention Schedules, and reconciling unforeseen public records issues.
